Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps (SFIM)

Krazan reviewed SFIM to evaluate prior land use at the subject property. SFIM typically exist for cities with populations of 2,000 or more, the coverage beginning in 1867 and continuing until the present. The availability of SFIM coverage is dependent on the location of the site.

On September 10, 1997, Krazan contracted with Environmental Risk Information & Imaging Services (ERIIS) of Herndon, Virginia, to provide a Fire Insurance Map Abstract indicating the availability of historic fire insurance maps for the subject site and adjoining properties as far back as 1867. ERIIS' search of collections at the Library of Congress, University Publications of America, and various public and local sources revealed no map coverage for the subject site and adjoining properties.

Historical Owner Information

According to information on file with the Boeing Realty Company and interviews with Mr. Stavale, the subject site was farmland prior to the development of the site in the early 1940's. Industrial use of the property began in 1941 when the Defense Plant Corporation developed the site as part of an aluminum reduction plant. The Aluminum Company of America (ALCOA) operated the plant for the government to produce aluminum during World War II. ALCOA operated the plant until it was closed
